

"A Red Tag Day for a Special Person"

A friend of Miss Stack's, Jackson Dundon who is 2, was diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor last week. Since Jackson loves the Washington Capitals and even took his hockey stick with him into the MRI machine, his family is asking all friends and supporters to wear red every Thursday as that is Jack's clinic day.

In honor of Jackson and to support his family we will have "Red Tag Day" next Thursday, March 4, 2010. Please dress in red and send in a $1.00 donation, or more if you can, to help Jackson's medical needs. If you write a check please make it out to the "Jackson Dundon Recovery Fund".

You can follow Jack's progress on Facebook...

"1000 Strong for Jackson-We Can Do It"

Copy and paste the following URL:

<http://www.facebook.com/profile.php?id=1648758367&v=wall&viewas=1648758367#!/group.php?gid=355249070464&ref=mf>

Please keep Jackson and his family in your prayers.